National Catechetical Sunday Domingo Nacional de la Catequesis

Contributed by Anne Attea

Baptized Christian Catholics are called to continue the mission of Christ. Many people take this call seriously and have taught us about God and our faith: our parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles and other relatives, friends, teachers, priests and religious sisters and brothers. There are also others who have taught us about our faith in our church community and these “teachers” are called catechists.

Today is National Catechetical Sunday in the United States’ Catholic Church. It is dedicated to recognizing all the people who serve as catechists in their communities. These volunteers dedicate a lot of time, talent and energy to children, youth and adults so that they can learn and draw closer to God. They do not profess to have all the answers about our faith, but are open to learning and sharing their life experiences and what they have learned with others.

Together with Fr Dale and our entire community, we give deep thanks to our Ascension volunteer catechists who will serve our community this year:

Como cristianos católicos bautizados, estamos llamados a continuar la misión de Cristo. Mucha gente ha tomado en serio esta llamada y nos ha enseñado acerca de Dios y nuestra fe: nuestros padres, abuelos, tíos y otros parientes, amigos, maestros, sacerdotes y religiosos. También, hay algunas personas quienes nos han enseñado acerca de la fe en la iglesia, y a estos “maestros” les llamamos catequistas.

Hoy, la iglesia en los EEUU celebra el domingo catequético, un día especial para reconocer a las personas quienes están sirviendo a la comunidad como catequistas. Estos voluntarios dedican mucho tiempo, talento y energía para que los niños, jóvenes y adultos se aprendan y acerquen más a Dios. Ellos no profesen de tener todas las respuestas acerca de la fe católica. Sin embargo, están dispuestos a seguir formándose y aprendiéndose ellos mismos mientras que comparten sus experiencias y conocimientos de la fe con los demás.

Junto con P. Dale, y toda nuestra comunidad, agradecemos a las personas que han escogido a dar su tiempo voluntario para servir a la comunidad este año como catequistas.

May God bless them, the families who will participate this year in faith formation, and our entire community today and always.

Que Dios les bendiga a nuestros catequistas, a las familias que van a participar en el catecismo este año, y a toda la comunidad de la Ascensión hoy y siempre.
