Toward Healing Minds and Hearts

Saturday, Oct. 5, 11:30 a.m.-3 p.m.

St. Catherine University

All are welcome to gather for a day of prayer, listening and learning. The Twin Cities Catholic Racial Justice Coalition, in partnership with the Church of Gichitwaa Kateri, is hosting this special afternoon with guest speaker Dr. Samuel Torres, Deputy Chief Executive Officer of the National Native American Boarding School Healing Coalition. This event will examine the complex shared histories of Native Boarding Schools, including the Catholic Church's involvement, through stories, research, and reflection on intergenerational trauma. Together, attendees will explore possible conciliatory actions and experience the vitality of Native cultures. This is a free event, with lunch provided. Learn more and register at ccf-mn.org. St. Catherine University is at 2004 Randolph Ave., St. Paul.

Career Pathway Program for Early Childhood Teachers

Lutheran Social Service of Minnesota's Career Pathway program is for people in the Twin Cities who are interested in becoming early childhood education teachers.

This program consists of:

- 120 hours of online training.
- 480 hours of in-person, paid work experience, $15 hour.
- First aid/CPR class.
- Test of Adult Basic Education (TABE) reading and math assessment.

Once the training and work experience are complete, which typically takes about four months, participants will receive their Child Development Associate (CDA) credential. The CDA credential is the most widely recognized in early childhood education and opens participants up to new opportunities for employment.

This service is free and open to anyone 18 years or older who is interested in early childhood education, willing to work with diverse communities, and meets program requirements. Email preschooltraining@lssmn.org.
